

Halley Hornets Do Distance Learning!

All WHES students will have the opportunity to participate in both synchronous and asynchronous learning, independent work time, and the option of small group or individual instruction throughout the week. In addition, all families will receive learning packets in grades PK-6th delivered via US mail. Packets can also be found electronically through Blackboard 24/7.

Synchronous Versus Asynchronous

With synchronous learning, students will “meet” at the same time in various formats and can receive immediate feedback from their fellow students or teacher during a session. Asynchronous learning can be completed independently and students can reach out to teachers at another time.

Stay Connected!

Blackboard

Academics and Continuity of Learning Plan for Students and Parents

<https://www.fcps.edu/news/coronavirus-updateacademics-distance>

FCPS 24-7 Learning/Blackboard

<https://www.fcps.edu/resources/technology/fcps-24-7-learning>

Halley Elementary School

<https://halleyes.fcps.edu/>

Tips for Blackboard Collaborate

Your teachers will share more directions with you when you join them online! Here are some quick tips:

-  Mute your microphone when you're not talking
-  Wear appropriate clothing for a classroom setting
-  Use the “raise your hand” tool to speak. Each session will be recorded for future reference
-  Use the “chat” tool to participate

\ Remember to show good digital citizenship in your communication! (verbal and written)*

Another tip...Create a Workspace!

Find a space where you can do your best work, just like you would in the classroom. Where will you be most comfortable and able to focus? You might want to have some tools with you for learning time, like a pencil and paper or some headphones for your technology.

- ▼ SCHEDULES: Please click on the link below to view your child's schedule. There are four different schedules to support all grade levels K - 6. Preschool teachers will be in touch with families about their specific schedules.